

Dear Customer,

In our efforts to continually improve our products, you will notice a few changes to the N-PAK line.

First, you will find a gold colored catheter in place of the white catheter in every kit. This is due to advancements in material since our product release. The color change will also help in the ease of identification. The application and performance of these kits will remain the same.

Second, you will find the date code conveniently located on the label of every kit and shelf box. This will make it easier for your internal tracking and inventory control. If you have any questions please contact your distributor or visit us on the web www.n-pak.com.

Thank you for your continued business.
